BEACH RAILROAD.

The Santa Monica Organization.

The Santa Monica Outlook Railroad Company was organized yesterday upon receipt of its charter from Sacramento.

The officers elected for the following year are: Abbot Kinney, president; Patrick Robertson of Scotland, vice-president, and James Bettner of Riverside, secretary and treasurer.

The building of the road will commence in about three weeks. It is a beach railroad, similar to that at Coney Island, and will prove one of the most remunerative investments in Southern California.

The board of directors of the railroad is composed of the following gentlemen: Hon. Abbot Kinney, Hon. James Bettner, Judge W. P. Gardner, Patrick Robertson and D. Galbraith.

United States Courts.

Yesterday morning the United States Circuit Court convened and the following business was transacted:

The case of Hughes vs. Conthorn was set for the 21st inst.

Harrison vs. Ulrich was called and went over for the term.

The answer in the Calkins et al. vs. John Morgan. The answer sets up a general denial.

In the District Court, S. H. Moll, the San Diego smuggler, pleaded guilty and was fined $100.

The cigar-box cases were dismissed on motion of the District Attorney.

A demurrer was filed in case of United States vs. Weller, and submitted.

Oliver C. Sead was arraigned and pleaded not guilty, and his case was set for trial November 24.

Adjourned until today at 10 o'clock a.m.

The Courts.

In Judge Cheney's court yesterday the following business was transacted: Informations were filed charging Honorine Bradley with assault with a deadly weapon, and Dennis McMahon and Louis Stein with crime against nature.

The trial of John L. Fonck, for assault with a deadly weapon, is in progress.

Jury Cases.

James French, charged with resisting an officer, was discharged on motion of the District Attorney.

J. Santer was fined $10 for indecent exposure.

JUSTICE TANEY.

Charles Auble, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was allowed to plead guilty to simple assault, and was fined $10.

The trial of Ah Hing, Ah Kim and Ah Sam for petit larceny was set for October 19th.

A Work of Art.

A most unique work of art was exhibited in the window of the Redondo Beach Company's office, corner of Main and Court streets, yesterday. It consists of several thousand beautiful pebbles grouped into artistic shape, the different colors being arranged so that the words "from Redondo Beach" are brought out in bold relief.

The outer edge is handsomely set in with a row of sea-shells with a large Abalone shell in each corner. It is well worth a visit to see. The skill with which it was done reflects great credit on the maker.

Redondo Beach presents a mile or so made up of the sort of pebbles and shells referred to, while the beach where the bath-houses will be located is of pure, clear sand. There is about a mile of sand beach, and a couple of miles of the pebble beach.

Pullman Passengers.

The following are the Pullman passengers who went north at 1:30 yesterday: D. L. Russell, Mrs. Foreman, S. W. Weller, Mrs. Folger, Mrs. B. E. Choppin, Rev. W. S. Young, Mrs. E. K. Buckley, Victor Mathew, J. LaLove, Miss Hooper, P. McLeelan, Eligh Daugfield.

The following left on the 7:30 train: F. Surdy, Mrs. Fuller, E. J. Marcellus, Mrs. Abernethy, Mrs. Deunkelberger.

Board of Supervisors.

Wednesday, Oct. 5. Board met pursuant to adjournment. Action was deferred on the Tax Collector's petition for more clerical help.

In the matter of the Mesa Look street railroad, the petition of T. Wiesendanger was read, and the hearing set for October 8th at 10 a.m.

Being directly interested in the building of a standard gauge railroad from Los Angeles along the foothills to Santa Monica, places us in position to offer some gilt-edged bargains at various points along the route. We are sole agents for the sale of lots in Prospect Hill subdivision, in the Lick Tract, where grading has already begun and the building of a $75,000 hotel, "The Winchester," will be pushed to completion as rapidly as men and material can do this. This is the finest and most beautiful subdivision in the county, and only fifteen minutes' ride from Spring street. The cars will be running to this subdivision by October 20th, and a fine depot will be built immediately. Strangers and tourists are especially invited to call at our office and inspect the plans for the hotel; also maps of subdivisions. We have also several other tracts or subdivisions on the line of railroad and boulevard, which we will be pleased to show our customers at any time. Sunset boulevard, as well as the Foothills Railroad, runs through or near all these tracts, and we can accommodate you with large or small lots or acre tracts on which large profits may be realized. Being interested in the railroad, we can show you just where the depot buildings and sidings will be, so you will know just where to select lots either for business or residence purposes. Our carriage is always ready, and we will take pleasure in showing any one who desires to purchase, or to furnish any information in regard to the above properties. Strangers are particularly invited to make our office their headquarters while in the city, where any information in regard to real estate or railroad matters will be cheerfully given. We have some fine bargains in city property, houses and lots, in various parts of the city. Also a small hotel at The Palms, doing a fine business.

The Highest Authority.
William Hammond Hall, the State Engineer, who has had years of experience in land and water in California, after a full examination of the Rancho Ex-Mile on San Fernando, reports to the owners of the property, the Porter Land and Water Company, as follows: "You have 10,000 to 12,000 acres, and perhaps more, of really first-rate valley lands for cultivation, with soils not to be surpassed for fertility and desirability by those of any section; lying very favorably for irrigation, and in a neighborhood whose climate is well-adapted to the best class of agricultural, horticultural and vineyard productions usual in this country." Mr. Hall has been employed by the company to devise a complete plan for the irrigation of the tract with the waters flowing from San Fernando, Sylmar and Pacoima creeks, and from the immense cienegas located upon the ranch, and the public may expect the finest water system in California upon this property. Office, room No. 9, Los Angeles National Bank building, corner First and Spring streets. A man always at San Fernando, with conveyances, to show the property.

The street cars are already running from Alhambra northward, and will be extended to complete the road to Raymond within a few days and at once be laid. Call on W. G. Hughes, Secretary, Room 9, Los Angeles National Bank Building, corner First and Spring streets.

CLIFTON TRACT LOTS HAVE SOLD RAPIDLY.
Only a few are left. The Maple tract lots are all sold, and only eight of those 800 lots and five of those 600 to $100 houses and lots remain unsold.
The success is owing to nearness to street cars, water, and because they are so very cheap. They have sold off without noise or parade, for—
Not a drum was heard, not a brass band note, As our lots on the market I hurried;
No auctioneer tried his eloquent throat With his accent and emphasis varied.
I said to the people, the lots are all nice— Through the public prints I told them;
When they saw them they said, "You're correct, Mr. Peck."
And right on their merits I sold them.
So they counted their money and laid it down, Convinced of the truth of my story,
And I gave them their deeds and my blessing and then I left them alone in their glory.

MOSS & WARD,
At 134 North Main Street, Los Angeles, Cal.,
"THE SLEEPLESS REAL-ESTATE TEAM."
Five Reasons Why MOSS & WARD Always Get There.
1. Notice to CAPITALISTS and parties having money to invest in Los Angeles county: We are in a position to handle mere property, for subdividing and forming syndicates, to better advantage than any other real-estate brokers on the Pacific Coast. Why?
2. FIRST—We never sleep, and always have an eye open for bargains.
3. SECOND—We always back up our opinion by taking an interest ourselves.
4. THIRD—We only accept property that we consider a bargain; therefore have only bargains to offer.
4. FOURTH—There is no question about it that bankers, capitalists, business men, etc., will act wisely by sending their money to us for investment, as our receipts will show so far not less than 8 per cent. and as high as 15 per cent. per month profit to the investor.
5. FIFTH—We can give all the references necessary to show our responsibility upon application, written or verbal. Write for same if abroad.
"The Peer of All."
The latest and best tract on the market and laid out by us is "ALDINE SQUARE," and lots are now selling from $300 to $500 each; one-third cash, balance in six and twelve months. Look out for a sharp advance.
Our Meadow Park Townsite
Still enjoys a steady advance, and lots are changing hands rapidly. We have some choice lots at $150; $75 down, balance $15 per month, without interest.
Take These at Once, and You Are a Sure Winner.
"Don't ponder." You have our word for it you can't lose.
132 feet, on Temple street, making five business lots, only $27.50 per foot.
6x100 on Main street, almost adjoining the new hotel, $263.50 per foot.
Two corner lots, Orange Heights, half block from Seventh street, near Pearl street; $3000 takes them both. What's the matter with this?

Fourth—Trains will run OFTEN enough and FAST enough to accommodate business men.
Fifth—A complete water system furnishes water to every lot.
Sixth—The land is high and the atmosphere pure and dry.
Seventh—The soil is first-class.
Eighth—The lots are offered at prices far below other property near the city.
Ninth—The easy terms of payment, which are as follows: ONE-FIFTH CASH, and the BALANCE in EIGHT EQUAL MONTHLY PAYMENTS, WITHOUT INTEREST.

THE MISSING MAN.

Ex-Senator Creighton Not Yet Found.

Rumor That He Was Seen at Santa Barbara, Bound South.

His Wife Says He Will Be in Court for Sentence Today.

The Detective Think He is on His Way to Mexico, Whence He Cannot Be Extruded for Embezzlement—Full Description of the Fugitive.

By Telegram to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—[Special.] The sudden disappearance of ex-Senator Creighton has caused such intense interest here that the police department this evening issued the following amended circular, which has been sent by every city in the country and along the Pacific Coast, even to villages and hamlets:

"Arrest for felony, for bribing jurymen in the trial of Wright vs. the Geary Street Railroad Company, Daniel Joseph Creighton, better known as Dick Creighton, a ward politician of San Francisco. Was a member of the Senate during the year 1896. Is a native of San Francisco, age 37, height 6 feet 1 inch, full round and heavy build, deep chest and heavy limbed. Hair dark brown, nearly black; eyes dark; round, full face, regular features, complexion ruddy olive. Altogether, is quite good looking. Has an overgrown, boyish manner and appearance; slow in movement, lounges against anything that may be near when standing. May have a small, dark mustache. I hold a bench warrant from the Superior Court. Arrest and telegraph. (Signed) P. CROWLEY, Chief of Police.

San Francisco, October 5, 1897. Subsequently Capt. Lees gave it his opinion that Creighton had started for Mexico, probably overland, as no vessels have sailed thither since Sunday. In Mexico the fugitive would be reasonably safe, as the provisions of the treaty between that country and the United States do not provide for the extradition of persons accused of embezzlement. The same is true as to Canada, however, for which reason some hold that Creighton may have hid him hence toward British Columbia.

W. C. CROWLEY'S OPINION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The rumor which started yesterday that ex-Senator D. J. Creighton, convicted of jury-bribery on Saturday, had left the city and abandoned his bondsman to their fate, seems to be regarded now as almost a certainty. Reports were circulated that he had been seen in this city yesterday, but Chief of Police Crowley said today, "I do not believe the statement of anybody who claims to have seen Creighton since Monday. Detectives who have been trying to track the missing man could not find any responsible person who saw him since Sunday night, but it is probable."

GOES OVERLAND PROBABLY.

It seems to be the prevailing opinion that Creighton left here overland for Los Angeles, and will go from thence to Mexico. Chief Crowley has telegraphed a description of Creighton to points on the northern and southern boundaries of the State, with instructions to the officers to arrest him if found.

Creighton's wife claims that her husband is still in the city but she does not know in what locality, and says she believes that he will appear in court tomorrow, which is the time set for sentence.

SEEN AT SANTA BARBARA.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 5.—A rumor prevails here tonight that D. J. Creighton had been seen and recognized among the passengers on the south-bound steamer Queen.

DAVITT TO THE KNIGHTS.

MENKAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—Michael Davitt, who arrived here last night, addressed the National Assembly of Knights of Labor meeting. He said the Irish people were bearing with fortitude the indignities of the law, but that they had precipitated many bloody revolutions. Home-rule sentiment, he said, was spreading like wildfire, and there was no doubt that Gladstone would sweep the country like a whirlwind if an election were held next year.

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS.

LINCOLN (Nebr.), Oct. 5.—The Republican Convention met this evening, and after appointing a committee on resolutions, renominated Judge Samuel Maxwell for Judge of the Supreme Court on second ballot.

DEATH OF PORTLAND'S FIRST SETTLER.

PORT TOWNSEND, Oct. 5.—W. W. Pettygrove, first settler on the ground where Portland, Or., now stands, died today aged 70. He named Portland after his native city in Maine.

BONDS OFFERED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The total amount of bonds offered to the Government today was $1,744,300, of which $1,057,100 were 4 per cent and $687,200 were 4 per cent.

LUMBER BURNED.

MEMPHIS (Mich.), Oct. 5.—Six million feet of valuable lumber in the yards and on the docks here, was burnt last night. Loss, $100,000; insurance small.

FLIMSY UNDERWEAR.

A Physician's Argument for Woolen Underclothing.

[New York Mail and Express.]

"Bad cold?"

"I should say I had, doctor," responded the reporter, as he smothered a cough.

"What kind of underclothing do you wear?"

"The same kind I wore all summer."

"Linen or cotton?"

"I really can't say. Cotton, I believe."

"Did you suffer from the heat much during the summer?"

"Suffer! I should say I did. I nearly melted."

"And you are a trifle chilly now that the cold wave has come?"

"I am, indeed; but what have my underclothes to do with that? I have always worn the same kind in the summer."

"So does almost every one. The use of linen and cotton for underwear is one of the commonest of all errors in this country. Now, in Germany we have a movement which is called the German School of Clothing Reform. It aims to replace cotton and linen with woolen goods. There are many reasons why this should be done. Wool exercises a stimulating effect upon the skin, unlike linen and cotton, and consequently promotes the proper action of the pores, glands and superficial tissues. It is a non-conductor of heat and preserves the normal temperature of the body. It allows a freer escape of the perspiration, and thus lowers, by evaporation, any abnormal temperature of the body, and facilitates the loss of excessive heat. Also, through its non-conductivity of heat, it preserves the normal measure of warmth. Hence it is a better protection against the extremes of either heat or cold than linen or cotton."

"Well, those certainly do seem to be reasons enough."

"Indeed they are, but they are not enough in and of themselves. Life linen and cotton are not. Wool can excite electricity, but does not conduct it. Therefore, a body clothed in wool loses less of its animal electricity, while fresh electricity is excited on the surface. The intimate relationship between galvanic, nervous and vital forces render this peculiarity of the greatest vital importance to the wearer."

"Why doesn't every one wear wool, then?"

"Because," answered the physician, "the old idea of having something flimsy and gauzy next to the flesh is too firmly instilled into the minds of the manufacturers of underwear for them to experiment with woolen materials. I have cured a large number of sick men of seemingly incurable disorders by simply prescribing a change in their underwear. While it is not an infallible cure-all," added the physician in conclusion, "it certainly is of much benefit, and its general adoption would result in great permanent good."

BUTLER'S BEST SPEECH.

It is Admitted to Be One in Which He Never Said a Word.

[Omaha World.]

"I was talking with Congressman Calkins in Indianapolis on Sunday last," said Mr. Will V. Rooker in the lobby of the Paxton, "and he gave me what I thought was a new one about old Ben Butler. The way our conversation started Calkins asked me about Crazy-horse Van Wyck, and remarked that he made a very picturesque picture in the Senate. I never saw but one other man with such a wild and woolly gesture as Van Wyck had, and that was an Ohio Congressman, whom I will not name. He represented one of the interior districts of his State at the time Ben Butler was having no end of trouble with Sam Cox and a good many other people in the House and doing them all up more or less in his own peculiar way. The Ohio man had been loaded for Benjamin for some time, and at last one day he got his chance. His speech was simply a torrent of vulgar abuse and would have attracted unmitigated disgust had it not been for his peculiar gesture, which tempered the disgust with mirth. He had a fashion of raising his arms just as high above his head as possible and then wringing his hands as though he were making a delicious attempt to wring them off. Well, old Ben sat through the speech, with his one good eye half shut, not moving a muscle. When the Ohio man had finished and taken his seat Ben rose calmly, dignified and impressive—and stood in the aisle. For half minute he said nothing. Then he began 'Mr. Speaker.' Another pause, long and powerful. Everybody waited with hushed breath for him to continue. Raising his arms, Ben reproduced exactly the awful gesture of the Ohio Congressman. Then he permitted his arms to fall again, and for another half minute stood still and silent. 'That is all, Mr. Speaker,' said the shrewd and sarcastic son of Massachusetts. 'I just wanted to answer the gentleman from Ohio.' Judging from the wild laughter and applause which followed, old Ben's speech was at once the shortest and the best ever delivered in the lower house."

Peculiar Words and Their Origin.

(All the Year Round.)

The dictum that "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" has been ascribed to John Wesley; but it is said to have originated from the following sentence by George Herbert: "His (a clergyman's) apparel is plain, but reverend and clean, without spots or dust; the purity of the mind breaking out and dilating itself, even to his body, clothes and habitation."

Philologists seem to be almost unanimous in considering the familiar term, "navy," to be a corruption of the word "navigator," for the first canals being known as "navigations," their contractors were called "navigators." About a quarter of a century ago, however, a clergyman resident at St. Williams advanced the following ingenious theory as to the derivation of "navy": "In the northern countries of the Scottish Highlands the Danish word 'nabi' is used in the sense of 'neighbor,' and has been so employed for centuries. When the Caledonian Canal was being cut in 1800, and the following twenty years, many of the inhabitants of the surrounding districts were, as a matter of course, engaged in the work. These men frequently addressed one another a 'nabi'—just as an Englishman would probably say 'mate,' 'chum' or 'comrade.' A large number of the same men afterward proceeded to assist in the excavation of the Crican Canal, which intersects the Mull of Cantyre, and where they found among the workmen a very considerable admixture of Englishmen. Here the term 'nabi,' or 'neighbor,' became all but universal; and as the contractors and superintendents were English, they conveyed the word with them to the southern canals, when it was soon corrupted into 'navy.'"

Animals and Earthquakes.

[Newcastle Chronicle.]

Prof. Milne, one of the Scotch coteries of students established in Japan, where they devote themselves to the study of earthquakes, gives some interesting particulars, in the report of the Seismological Society of Japan, regarding the effects of earthquakes on the lower animals. He quotes the case of ponies rising in terror and prancing about the stall thirty seconds before the shock was felt. He refers, also, to birds hiding their heads beneath their wings; to pheasants screaming, and to frogs ceasing to croak before the trembling is felt. Geese, dogs and other animals have been known to behave in a strange manner several hours, or even days, before an earthquake.

Will Knock 'Em Out.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

The Southern California papers are vexing themselves unnecessarily about the correspondence in the New York Herald. That paper may berate the country as much as it pleases, but as long as the State continues to advertise itself by sending to the East daily huge quantities of California products the Herald's editorials in one round, or a pile of navel oranges from San Bernardino is navigable enough to answer ten columns of abuse.

Where One Can Always Find Comfort.

[Danville Press.]

"Let the weather be as hot as it may, there is one place one can go and always be sure and find comfort."

Where is that, pray? said Gubbins, wringing the perspiration from his brow. "I'll go if it is two miles."

"In the dictionary."

Italy's Reasons For Joining the Austro-German Alliance—A Berlin Editor Feels the Weight of Bismarck's Wrath—Kathol's Wilson—Foreign Notes.

LOOKS BAD FOR BULGARIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 5.—De Giers, Minister of Foreign Affairs, sent a letter to Chakir Pasha, Turkish Ambassador, announcing Russia's acceptance of the Porte's proposal to send an Ottoman Commissioner to Bulgaria to act in conjunction with a Russian Lieutenant-Governor of princely rank, but instead of the latter being subordinate to the Ottoman Commissioner, Russia proposes that the Ottoman Commissioner have second rank. The Porte's acceptance of the Russian General Enroth as Lieutenant-Governor of Bulgaria, is regarded as pledging Turkey's support to Russian proposals, involving, if necessary, Turkish initiative action in Bulgaria.

THE NEW TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—The Frankfort Zeitung publishes an interview with Crispien, the Italian Prime Minister, held at Frankfurt previous to his departure for Milan. His conversation, he said, with Bismarck had no reference to any special political objects. The Roman question did not exist for Italy. Italy's position toward the Vatican is a matter with which Italy would allow no interference from any quarter. Crispien declared that Italy only desired to maintain peace and European equilibrium, and on this account joined the Austro-German alliance. Italy, he added, like other powers has reason to feel anxious by Russia toward Constantinople, and she could not permit the Mediterranean to become a Russian lake.

A BERMUD EDITOR IMPRISONED.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—Herr Barth, editor of the Reichsfreund, has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment for ascribing the growth of the bad tone of Parliament to Bismarck's false and insulting accusations against the Liberals, which the latter were so accustomed to hear they were no longer excited thereby.

INDICATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Indications for the twenty-four hours commencing at 4 a.m., October 6th: For California—generally fair weather, preceded by local rains in extreme northern portion, winds shifting to brisk northwesterly winds in northern portion, light variable winds generally westerly in southern portion. Cool weather with rising temperature in northern California; nearly stationary temperature in Southern California.

Almost an Accident.

About 3:30 yesterday afternoon, a team belonging to J. Lash, ran away on Upper Main street. The kingbolt of the wagon broke, which caused the horses to become frightened, and they ran away, throwing the old man out. The driver, who was against a box on the sidewalk, but was not seriously injured. Humane Officer Wright stopped the team before much damage occurred.

Mutilated Money.

Unless money's identity is entirely gone, it is redeemable. In fact, money in the shape of ashes can be restored, and after the great Chicago fire were redeemed. It came about in this way: It is customary in banks to do up money in packages, say $10.00 each, and in the big fire, of course, hundreds and hundreds of these packages were reduced to ashes. But the shape of the packages remained, and wherever the packages could be sent, on to Washington without crumbling, the ashes of the money were sure to be replaced. It was done by the nimble-fingered women in the treasury department, whose trained touch and sight are wonderful. It is well known that the ashes of a newspaper, if dampened, will show traces of the printing. So it is with bills. These women would moisten these packages of apparently useless ashes and to their eyes the number and character of the bill would at once appear. So thousands and thousands of dollars were redeemed by these patient women.

A country merchant, afraid of banks, placed a large sum of money in bills in a stone jar on a shelf in his store, where he thought it would be quite safe. When he went to look after it one day not long after, it was a mass of fragments. Mice had got into the jar and chewed the bills into the minutest parts. They had mixed them all up, and altogether it was a wonderful looking mess. He sent a cigar box full of it to Washington, and what do you think? Out the $10 originally in the pile a little over $1000 was redeemed, the parts being beyond recall being the mere fibres of the bills. So the man lost only $100 by his foolishness.

One Lake Less.

[Oakland Enquirer.]

Honey Lake, in Honey Lake Valley, once a lake of water big enough to figure respectably in the maps, has disappeared, leaving a vast bed of alkali twelve miles wide by twenty-five in length. The river which supplied the lake was tapped for irrigation, and hence this geographical catastrophe. Tulare Lake will go the same way some day, and, in fact, it is uncertain when the final California geography can be issued, so much is man doing to alter the face of nature in this State.

TAIL LEAK.

THEY DIG THROUGH THE SOLID BRICK.

One of Them Boldly Walks the Streets and Is Recaptured—The Chief After Them With a Sharp Stick.

Tuesday night, some time after the change of watch at 8 o'clock p.m., and the last change at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, one of the prisoners confined in the ward at the City Prison managed to dig a hole in the outer wall, into the back yard of a furniture store on Spring street and made his escape. They were A. J. Church, the "fighting messenger," confined to await examination as to his sanity, Frank Martin, a trusty, and another man who had been imprisoned on a charge of being drunk.

The escape was effected by the aid of a piece of iron broken from the door of an old room which is lying around in the ward, a knife, probably secured by one of the trusties, and the hands of an old tin can, used by the prisoners for the purpose of digging the hole in the wall. With these tools they easily dug out the soft brickwork, making in the course of a few moments a hole large enough to allow the body of a man to pass through easily. There were, at the time the escape took place, about eighteen or twenty prisoners confined in the same room, but as they were in for being drunk, they were not taken into consideration to stand trial rather than the risk of escaping of being charged as jail-breakers.

Chief Darcy, on being asked concerning the matter yesterday morning, stated that the time of one of the trusties would have expired this morning, but that since he had made his escape, he would endeavor to arrest him, and with the others, charge them with having broken jail. The Chief also stated that the walls of the ward of the prison had for a long time been the subject of complaint by him to the Council, and yesterday afternoon he persuaded some of the members to go into the wardroom and see how easy it was for the prisoners to have made their escape at any time. For that reason he has put into that room none but the most ordinary cases, such as persons who come there to sober or get a night's lodging, so that in the event of an escape being made, no prisoner of any consequence would be able to get away.

About 11 o'clock Tuesday night, which was the time that the escape was effected, Church, the messenger boy, came up into the Trusties office and detailed his escape, complaining that he had been treated badly by the police and others. He was then asked how it occurred that he was at liberty, the fact of his having been arrested being known in the office, when he said that "they," meaning the police, had told him he could go. Church was around town several all day yesterday, and being seen by one of the officers, was arrested and charged, by direction of Chief Darcy, with having broken jail. Officers are now on the lookout for the remainder of the men, one of whom, it is stated, was seen early yesterday on the road to Pasadena.

SUMMARY OF NEWS GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

Surveyors at Port Harford—The Ojai Valley Railroad to Nordhoff—Evictions at Banning—Dogs in San Bernardino—Mountain Fires.

San Luis Obispo.

(Lompoc Record.)

San Luis Obispo county has arranged a most creditable exhibit of its various products, cereals, vegetables and fruits for the Mechanics' Fair. The enterprising men of that county have taken hold of every proper opportunity to bring their county to the favorable notice of homeseekers, and the result is already appreciable.

(Paso Robles Leader.)

According to the San Luis Republic, a party of surveyors of the Pacific Improvement Company arrived at Port Harford Saturday with the evident intention of continuing the survey southward from Templeton.

San Buenaventura.

(Hemlock Record.)

The Ross Hotel is going ahead rather slowly, but is nearing completion so far as the outside finish of the building is concerned.

Four schooner loads of lumber were discharged at our wharf the first part of the week, the four cargoes aggregating about 1,250,000 feet of lumber. Altogether the lumber yards of the town now contain no less than 3,500,000 feet of lumber.

(Santa Paula Graphic.)

Things are rushing on the Ojai, and the first waves of the coming tide of emigration and progress have reached us. The altitude of the "Lower Ojai" is 800 feet; that of "Upper Ojai" is 1200 feet; and the entire valley is protected against harsh eastern winds and drifting fogs from the ocean by Santa Ynez and San Rafael Mountains.

Santa Barbara.

(Press.)

Heacock and Dimock have dissolved the partnership heretofore existing between them in the real-estate business.

Capt. John Scollan, who has for the last sixteen years been Deputy Port Inspector of Santa Barbara, sent in his resignation yesterday.

A party of surveyors are at work running lines in the Santa Paula Cañon leading to the Ojai Valley. It is believed among Ojai people that they are employed by the Santa Fe system.

It is now stated that the proposed railroad from Ventura to Nordhoff, by way of Ventura avenue, will be built at once. The Montalvo syndicate is interested in the scheme, and abundant capital will be forthcoming.

San Bernardino.

(Courier.)

The streets are crowded with dogs, small dogs and large dogs, curs and mongrels, worthless dogs and valuable dogs. When the law authorizing the capture of stray canines again comes into force, the boys who obtain the contract to collect and impound them will reap a harvest—that is a dog harvest.

When the Salvation Army invaded this city its pipe was so weak and its whistle so small as to scarcely deserve notice. For a time its almost inaudible rantings attracted but little attention, and when it increased in size and display it was still tolerated, because up to that time it had not begun to consider itself the owner of the town. Later, not satisfied with fighting the devil, they had occasional fights with hoodlums who molested them. Elated over their success in their combats with the disturbers of their meetings, even though they did not get much the better of his Satanic majesty, they have come to regard themselves as "some pumpkins," imported reinforcements of old and experienced fighters, and at each succeeding charge they come up smiling with renewed vigor.

Their dress parades are headed by an improvised brass band of great volume and ear-splitting sounds. The tomtoms and tin pans of the Chinese produce melody compared with these large-lunged and strong-armed horn blowers and cymbal clatters. "Marching Through Georgia" seems to be one of their favorite religious airs. These ranters and yellors and howlers and screechers are, in their present mode of conducting themselves, the component parts of a most monumental nuisance that might be removed from the public gaze greatly to the public's good.

Clinton Grimes, the unfortunate young man who was recently thrown from the Santa Monica tram, died at the residence of his parents on the 29th. From the time of the accident, until death overtook him he lay in a semicomatose condition, caused by paralysis of the brain, resultant to the severe concussion sustained by that organ. Death was produced by inanition, consequent to the patient's inability to partake of food.

(Index.)

Yesterday a gentleman from the East walked the city over to find a house to rent or suitable rooms for himself and wife and two children, but could find none. Here is a chance for speculators to invest their money to good advantage in erecting houses to rent. The demand is rapidly increasing and will keep up.

Walter Hathway of Banning was here yesterday, and in conversation with an Index reporter said that the soldiers had commenced the work of eviction and had forcibly run off cattle (50 head) from the Gird & North ranch and had removed about fifty tons of hay from the same place. Mr. Hathway has about 100 stands of bees in a cañon there, which occupy about an acre of ground. When ordered to remove them he very promptly declined and told the soldiers to remove them themselves, but Mr. Hathway was under the impression that they would not attempt it. He says that the majority of the settlers will leave without being forced to, but that it is the worst outrage in American history.

Pasadena.

(Union.)

It did not leak out until Saturday evening that City Clerk Sawtelle entertained a wedding party at his house Saturday afternoon, but such was nevertheless the case. J. W. Reed and Miss Lottie B. Churchill were married at his house at 2 p.m., Rev. M. N. Cornelius officiating. No cards.

The city engineers are making a survey this afternoon for the curbs and gutters on the unfinished part of Colorado street west of the railroad.

The residents of Center street, South Pasadena, are having that street graded and cement sidewalks built from the railroad to Fair Oaks avenue.

The Tehachapi green-stone in the new library building is very much admired by all who see it. As this stone has all the requisites of a good building stone, and is, withal, so beautiful it will become a very popular building material.

The property owners of Pasadena have now a very serious alternative offered them—either put up an additional and large number of buildings, or else have the weary house-hunters sitting around on street corners singing "Mikado" selections in a doleful voice and praying for a house to rent.

Every Saturday night and all day Sunday the Fair Oaks cars haul load after load of men to the saloon near the Raymond. These men, or many of them, get drunk and return to the city at a late hour and create a disturbance. They also annoy passengers on the cars with obscene and abusive language. The officers should be on the lookout for these people and deal with them as their duty requires. It would not be a bad idea for an officer to ride on these cars, on Sunday nights particularly, for the purpose of keeping order.

(Star.)

The following paragraph appears in the Los Angeles Tribune:

"There is one passageway through the mountains which seems to have been overlooked by the gentlemen present at the meeting of the directors of the Salt Lake and Los Angeles Railroad. This is the old way through the San Francisco cañon from Edizbeth Lake; thence, by way of a practicable cañon into the San Fernando Valley, and down through the Caluenga pass into the city. The pass has been pronounced passable by the best engineers in the State, and gives a maximum grade of fifty feet to the mile. It carries the road several miles farther westward, however, than would a route through the Arroyo Seco."

We were aware that our metropolitan neighbor was jealous of Pasadena's progress, but did not suppose it possible that a journal published there would descend to such puerile sniveling as to suggest a diversion from Pasadena of the route of a railroad, which practically owes its existence to an honored citizen of Pasadena. Such a publication deserves the contempt of all fair minded citizens. We will state for your benefit, neighbor, that the road, if built, will not go to Los Angeles by any other route than through Pasadena, and that any attempt on your part to divert it to other channels will only end in your own confusion, and meet with as much success as your attempted robbery of Pasadena's credit, by labeling a Pullman car destined to St. Louis and filled with Pasadena's citizens as coming from Los Angeles.

Santa Ana.

(Herald.)

Large quantities of wool are being hauled in from the country for shipment by rail. Most of it goes to Boston, 30,000 pounds going out this week.

A big fire was raging in the mountains to the eastward of this town on Sunday, and was blazing brightly Wednesday. It was doubtless set by hunters, and would burn over quite a scope of country, brush and timber being so dry.

The Board of Trustees of the Santa Ana school district have made an agreement to buy a lot in the Beckingham tract, west of town, and will probably buy a lot in the Reuter tract, east of town, for school purposes. They have also purchased a lot from John Earhart, in rear of the new school-house, for $1250.

Not a rail has been laid on the Los Angeles branch of the California Central, from Santa Ana. The survey has been completed, but no grading has been done, the company being desirous of finishing the line to San Diego first. Yesterday the rails had been laid to within 11½ miles of San Juan, but now the work will necessarily go slow, for bridges will have to be built over ravines, some of them 25 feet deep and 120 feet wide, and other work in the hills done. Plans and specifications for the depot at Santa Ana are now ready, and the grading for the site is completed. The passenger department of the building will be highly ornamental. The company is anxious to have the freight department built as soon as possible, and will let the contract here to competent mechanics.

Colton.

(Semi-Tropic.)

Our postmaster informs us that a letter too much delayed is caused in the delivery of mail destined for this point from the east via the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, by detaining the same for hours at San Bernardino. It has been declared that eastern mail for Colton has been detained at Santa Bernardino depot for all of twelve hours. This is carrying petty spite and vindictiveness a little too far, and the attention of the Government will be called to the matter.

Morris' Doings.

More irregularities of Morris, the trusty, who on Saturday night escaped from the County Jail, are being discovered. It will take several days before the books can be put in proper order, as half of the commitments and other papers have not been entered. The full amount of Morris' detention so far discovered is $100.00.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Street-Car Horses.
OFFICER WRIGHT OF THE HUMANE SOCIETY SPEAKS HIS MIND.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Complaints are made to me, almost daily, in respect to the overloading of the street cars. Especially is this true of the Main-street and Agricultural one-horse line.

I am tired of the unjust censure cast upon me by many because I do not put a stop to these abuses. Patience in this matter has ceased to be a virtue, and with your permission I want to say something by way of explanation to the public.

I am willing and ready to investigate and prosecute any and every violation of law that comes under the jurisdiction of the Humane Society. But there is very little encouragement for me to try to do so when the same parties who make these complaints almost universally refuse to aid me in the work. If I do not happen to know them they refuse to give me either their names or residences. The gentleman who wrote a communication to THE TIMES a few days past, and signed himself "Citizen," would have manifested more moral courage had he signed his name to his article, or at least had given his residence. But no, that wouldn't have done, for in that case I might have found him and asked him to come into court and tell what he knew about the matter of which he was complaining. If I had he would doubtless have given me the stereotyped answer: "I don't want to get mixed up in these court troubles. I'm in business and it might injure me." This class tie my hands and then the croakers step up and kick me. We try to obey the injunction: "Whoever smiteth thee on thy right cheek turn to him the other also." But the turning process in this case is superfluous, for with the howling croakers on one side, and conscienceless jurors on the other, we catch it on both cheeks at the same time.

There are three sources of cruelty to street-car horses, namely: Overloading, overdriving, and too much stopping. For the former two the street-car companies are to blame; for the latter the people who patronize the cars, including my human croakers, are responsible. In regard to the matter of overloading, the companies are not wholly to blame. Part of the blame, should in my humble judgment, rest on the Council, which passed the ordinance regulating the number of passengers to forty on the one-horse lines, and sixty on the two-horse lines. I have talked to a great many of the drivers and conductors, and without an exception they have said that from twenty-five to thirty is all that one horse should be required to haul, and not over fifty for two horses. I trust that the Council will, without delay, amend the ordinance in accordance with the above suggestions.

In regard to overdriving, that is a fault which like overloading may be partially remedied by putting on more cars. This is an absolute necessity for the comfort of the tens of thousands who are coming to visit our city this winter. At present I do not believe that the street-car companies of this city furnish seating capacity for over 50 per cent. of their passengers.

But my observation convinces me that of all the woes of the abused street-car horse, that of having almost every minute to try and strain and toil to start the heavily-laden car is the worst and most inexcusable; and who is to blame for this? Not the street-car companies, for they some time ago passed regulations on all their lines, and placed printed notices in all their cars ordering their drivers to stop only at crossings. This both the poor horses and drivers hailed as the day of semi-jubilee. But alas! this joy was as the morning dew that passeth away. A howl of lamentation that would have almost knocked the walls of Jericho down came up from the suffering public. Here was an order which, if effectually put in force, would, as every driver will tell you, do away with half the horse's work, for it is now no uncommon thing to see a car stop three to five times in a single block. But the wrath of the multitude of sympathizing and kind-hearted croakers had to be appeased, and the order was revoked and once more "a thousand hearts beat happily."

In conclusion, let me add: The street-car horses do not work over three or four hours a day, and I know by frequent personal inspection that no class of horses are better groomed and fed than they are. I say this because there are those who suppose that they are in the harness all day. I desire to do exact justice to all parties concerned as long as I remain an officer of the society. M. V. WRIGHT, Officer Los Angeles Humane Society.

That Veto.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Many of your readers have doubtless read in yesterday's edition of the Herald an article signed "M." in reference to the sewer question, and it is well for our city that we have men who will call attention to such entirely useless and unwarranted actions as this veto of the sewer ordinance seems to be—unwarranted in every sense of the word. Does the Mayor of this city really think that a plan which has been before the Council for over three months has received no consideration and thought from that body? Indeed the people do know for a positive fact that it has received careful consideration which its great magnitude deserved. The people also know that this plan was referred to a committee which, after careful examination and much thought and care, recommended its passage to the Council and they adopted the ordinance by a unanimous vote. The result of all this labor and trouble is that the Mayor, by his veto, has placed the whole project where it was months ago. No one doubts that the Mayor is actuated by the best motives. It is simply an error of judgment for which the people will have to pay.

The best sanitary engineers in the country have passed upon Mr. Eaton's plans and agree that, with very slight modifications, they cannot be improved upon. Had Mr. Hering and Mr. Waring made their examination of these plans together and in concert, their reports, though sufficient, would not have carried as great weight as they now do, acting as they did at different times and in no connection with each other, and being, as is well known, exponents of totally different systems. The Mayor wishes to relieve the Council of much responsibility in this matter. Why was not this thought of before outside authorities were called in and before the patience of the people was almost exhausted by useless and dangerous delays? Does he believe that the gentlemen recommended by him to make a further examination are more competent than Messrs. Waring and Hering? Have any of these gentlemen ever carried to completion or even commencement a sewage system in any way to be compared in magnitude to the one proposed for the city? No one doubts their superior ability, but the public also demand practical experience.

In conclusion it is hardly necessary for me to call attention to the damage being done to our city by the delaying of this work. The better class of visitors will not settle or invest in a place where the sewerage is in so defective a state as it is at present in Los Angeles. One of the first questions asked by strangers, is in reference to our drainage facilities, and at the present time only one answer can be returned, "we have none, but hope to have soon." This hope can only be realized by the prompt action of the Council, and in them we rely to remedy the bad policy which at present seems to prevail among those of our public officials who have been credited with more knowledge and less short-sightedness than they seem to possess. I am truly yours, H.

On account of the increased travel east, the Santa Fe route has arranged for extra Pullman cars on their through Kansas City trains. They are also now running their emigrant tourist sleeping cars direct from Los Angeles to Kansas City direct.

TWO FRIENDS MEET.

"Hello! old fellow. What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"I have been taking mercury and potash mixtures until they have nearly ruined me," squeaked the old man on crutches.

"And I," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the first dose."

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forest of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabit a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great

A ROMANTIC STORY.

A LOVING FATHER WHO WAS DISOWNED BY HIS WIFE.

A Life's Long Yearning—A Husband and Father Abandoned by Wife and Children—He Loves Them Still, and Dies in an Almshouse.

[Salem (Mass.) Gazette.]

Nearly sixty years ago it was my pleasure to make the acquaintance of one of the most prominent young men in town, a son of the deacon, the leader of the choir, and one looked up to as a model of beauty and manliness. His father died and left him a handsome property and a widowed mother to care for, and for some few years everything moved on around the large farm as though moved by a strong and energetic hand, and in due time he married the daughter of a professional man, and his old mother was laid away in the graveyard near by, where for generations the family had been laid in honored graves.

Speculation seemed to be the ruling passion with this young man, but all his hopes were not realized. The home and farm of his father was traded away for one in the city and here disappointment after disappointment soured his young wife and her more conservative parents against him; and though she had a family of three little children, she sought their friendly roof, where the father was shut out and the children were sent to school. On one occasion, some years after, when the children were on their way to school their father met them, and thinking they might be his own, asked them who they were, and with tears in his eyes turned away with a saddened heart, for he had never disgraced them by any bad habit, not even the use of tobacco, only he and their mother did not think alike, and the breach was made wider by her parents. They, however, passed away from the earth, while the husband and father traversed the earth far and near, finding no rest for his proud spirit, which he had inherited from his father. Once in a great while he would be seen going to the home of one of his daughters, who was married well, and try to be friendly, but he was not well received, because of her early training by the parent and grandparents. He would gladly have kept up correspondence and familiarity with his family, but this was not allowed. Yet he made clandestine visits to one of these daughters' homes, and on one occasion saw his wife, though so many years had intervened that he did not know her, and he sat and talked with her and other members of the family for the space of a half hour, when she rose from her chair and left the room. He then said to his daughter: "You have a boarder." She said yes, and never told him that it was his wife. She now has passed away, and all her father's family. The children still live, all are married and lovely in character. The father, if living, is now about 80 years of age, without home or friends, among those who knew him in his prosperous days, except a few who are called out in pity to give him a night's lodging or a meal of victuals, as in years past he has visited his native place.

The story is that he is dead—died in the almshouse in neighboring State. The old farm held by the family nearly 200 years passed into other hands, and could these ancient owners now see the great change made by the manufacturing interest which obliterates this farm, whether they would be pleased or not, must be left for others to judge. The whole lesson teaches us that we should cultivate love and friendship in the family and overlook, not magnify, little faults.
